

NATIVE AMERICAN HISTORY

CRN 82483 HIST 2096-101

MW 10:30-11:45 MAIN CAMPUS

SPRING 2009

Dr. Benay Blend

After five months, the Longest Walk converges on Washington, D.C. As the above picture proves, history is not “dead,” but instead is constantly affecting our reality, and if it is dead, then we all are affected by the ghosts of the past. In 2096, we will go deeper into an understanding of the processes that have created our present reality. In the process, we will give voice to people who are often thought to have no history. Texts:

A. Hurtado,Ed. Reflections on American Indian History: Honoring the Past, Building a Future;

P. Nabokov,Ed. Native American Testimony