

Course Name:	CJ 1007-51, Criminal Procedure
CRN	90845
Description	This class Examines the method of enforcing the substantive criminal law. It includes the process of applying the established law, constitutional law, rules of evidence, case law and an understanding of the logic used by the courts. This class also blends theory and practical application. Knowledge and skills gained in this course will assist students in meeting professional and personal goals.
Prerequisites	ENG 0950, RDG 0950, MATH 0750, or division approval
Start and End Dates:	May/19 thru Aug 10, 2008.
Instructor Name	Kevin Daugherty, JD
Phone	224-4201
Email	kdaugherty@cnm.edu
Required Face-to-Face Meeting:	Course orientation, TC 150 (Criminal Justice computer lab, main campus) at 1:30pm on May 19, 2008. Students will be required to come to the CJ Computer lab to complete an assignment for the class; an interactive CD on Search and Seizure. Students will be required to observe an actual trial in a court room as a class assignment.
Required Texts:	Criminal Law and Procedure, ISBN 0-536-26503-8
Additional requirements for this course:	All students must attend an orientation session in the Criminal Justice Lab (T-150) of the Main Campus. Failure to attend will result in being dropped from the course. I will be posting the date and time on "Passport" at least a week prior to the beginning of the class. Finally,

Course Name:	CJ 1007-51, Criminal Procedure
	any student who misses the first assignment in the course will be dropped from the class. Students must have an E-Mail account and access to a computer with Windows 98 or higher and Office 2000. This software may be obtained at the CNM Bookstore at a discounted price. All work must be done in Microsoft Word. You must keep in contact with the instructor by completing assignments as per the syllabus, taking quizzes, and replying to discussion postings as scheduled.
Online Information and time commitment:	Distance Learning students must be self-motivated to achieve their goals on time. I can't stress this enough! Take the student readiness quiz at: http://planet.cnm.edu/distancelearn/measuring_student_readiness.htm to be sure of your abilities to succeed as a distance learning student. Many students think distance learning courses are easier and then find out that the opposite is true. You will probably need to spend as much or more time doing your reading, testing and assignments as you would spend driving to and from campus and sitting in class (average: 3-5 hours a week). I recommend scheduling study-time into your week (like you would do with a class) and making sure that you stick to the schedule. It's easy to get behind and almost impossible to catch up. You will be turning in something fairly substantial and/or taking a quiz every single week.
Additional Instructions for after enrolling for this course:	Next Steps: Logon to WebCT : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Register for CJ 1007-51, Criminal Procedure. • Go to http://webct.cnm.edu and create a "Blackboard" account. If you've already done this, go to the next step. • Logon to My Blackboard. • To add this course, click on "Add a Course" from the main My Blackboard screen. • Scroll to CJ 1007 and click on the pencil icon to add this course to My Blackboard. • Go to the course homepage, read the "welcome" note, and follow the exact instructions. • Purchase the textbooks.